IFA Awards

Open for applications!

Discover more →

IFA Congress Award

- Recognises outstanding published works in international or comparative tax law, including indirect taxation

- Related to the two Main Subjects of the IFA 2027 Stockholm Congress:
  1. Taxation of Services in the Digital Era
  2. Tax Incentives in the Post-BEPS Era

- Prize of €8,000, free Annual IFA Congress registration, a certificate, one year of free IFA membership, and opportunity for publication

The Mitchell B. Carroll Award

- Recognises original and unpublished works in the field of international or comparative tax or fiscal law (including international indirect taxation)
- Open to young and highly skilled tax scholars and professionals (<40 years)
- Prize of €8,000, free Annual IFA Congress registration, a certificate, one year of free IFA membership, and opportunity for publication

Poster Programme

- Connects students and young professionals with the IFA network
- Open to both LLM and PhD candidates writing a thesis or substantial research paper on a theoretical or practical issue in international taxation
- Poster presentation at the Annual IFA Congress, prize of €500, one year of free IFA membership, poster publication on the Global IFA website and the Annual IFA Congress App

Apply before 31 January!

www.ifa.nl/ifa-awards