

ONLINE

INTERNATIONAL SUMMER LAW SCHOOL 2021

From June 8 to July 30 of 2021

Pre-registration

The School

The International Summer Law School of Universidad de los Andes offers a unique opportunity to take intensive courses with professors from top level universities around the world who bring with them a vast experience and knowledge in their fields of expertise. This year, and in order to overcome the limitations imposed by the Covid-19 pandemic we are going virtual, providing a new opportunity for those who could otherwise not join us in the city of Bogotá.

You can choose from among 23 courses (9 in English and 14 in Spanish), that we are offering this year. Our visiting and resident professors have modified their programs so that you can access the courses virtually. Our courses focus on various subjects, some very specialized, with a practical or theoretical focus, others interdisciplinary; all of them with very high quality.

Students from outside the Los Andes School of Law will receive a certificate of attendance or a certificate with a grade.

Join us from June 8 to July 30, 2021 to participate in an extraordinary academic experience that will allow you to interact remotely with professors and students from the best universities in the world. Do not miss it!

CONTENT

• Courses offer 2021	4
Free Trade in a Protectionist World: The Post-Trump Era of Trade	5
Comparative Law in a Global Perspective	6
Neoliberalism and Sovereignty	7
Constitutionalism and Gender	8
Public International Law	10
International Law in Context: A View From Latin America	11
International Economic Law	12
Urban Segregation and Inequality in Latin American Cities: a Local Government Law Perspective	13
Data Governance in the Digital Information Economy	14
• Courses in Spanish	15
• Equivalencies	16
• Information and Registration	17

COURSES OFFER 2021

Photo: Felipe Cazares | Universidad de los Andes

Free Trade in a Protectionist World: The Post-Trump Era of Trade

Days: July 19 to 31, 2021

Credits: 4

This short seminar will unpack the fundamental concepts that underlie the international economic system, from the Bretton Woods Institutions to the World Trade Organization to the hodgepodge of free trade agreements in place today. +INFO

Professor:
Kevin Fandl
Temple University
– USA

Comparative Law in a Global Perspective

Days: June 8 to 22 , 2021

Credits: 4

The course introduces and analyzes comparative law in a global perspective, providing students with an overview of the most important legal traditions of the world. +INFO

Professor:

Valentina Volpe

Lille Catholic University

- France

Neoliberalism and Sovereignty

Days: June 15 to 28, 2021

Credits: 4

The term "neoliberalism" has become omnipresent both in the press and in academic research. It is the subject of many controversies. Some deny its very existence, while others vilify it as the origin of all current problems (poverty, crime, populism, climate change etc.). +INFO

Professor:
Annabel Herzog
Haifa University -
Israel

Constitutionalism and Gender

Days: June 21 to July 2, 2021
Credits: 4

Exploration of the intersections between constitutionalism and gender has considerably evolved and enlarged its reach in recent times. On the one hand, since the mid-1990's, there has been a large consensus regarding the importance of mainstreaming gender to achieve gender equality. +INFO

Professor:
Francisca Pou
Giménez
Instituto Tecnológico
Autónomo de México
- México

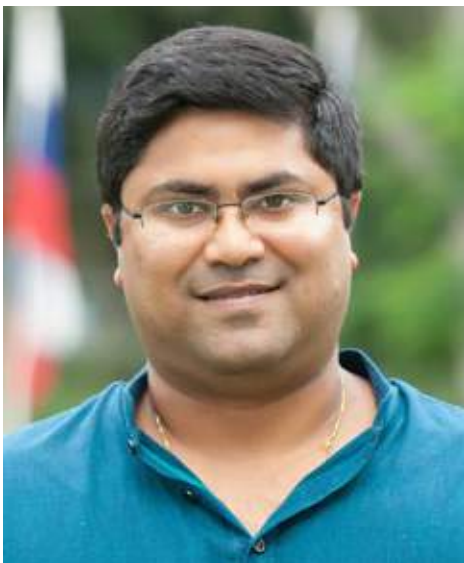

Professor:
Isabel Cristina Jaramillo Sierra
Universidad de los
Andes - Colombia

Public International Law

Days: June 21 to July 2, 2021

Credits: 4

Contemporary international life has become unthinkable without the existence of public international law. Increasingly, international relations have become juridified, while more and more actors (international organizations, individuals, groups, NGOs, and corporations) participate in norm creation, implementation and enforcement. +INFO

Professor:
Mihir Kanade
University for Peace –
Costa Rica

International Law in Context: A View From Latin America

Days: July 6 to 19, 2021

Credits: 4

This course introduces and explores the main topics of public international law with special attention to the Latin American context. It examines the nature and structure of international legal arguments in historical perspective and contemporary practice, considering the regional experience of Latin America. +INFO

Professor:

Fabia Fernandes
Carvalho Veçoso

Melbourne University
– Australia

International Economic Law

Days: July 6 to 19, 2021

Credits: 4

This course presents an introduction to the fundamentals of international economic law, providing students with a broad understanding of the field. It delves into topics such as: the development of the Bretton Woods system and the struggles between capital-exporting and capital-importing states over the course of the last century, the history, operation and continued relevance of the International Monetary Fund (IMF), the challenges of development and the work of the World Bank and the establishment of the World Trade Organization (WTO). +INFO

Professor:
Jessica Charles Lawrence
University of Essex – UK

Urban Segregation and Inequality in Latin American Cities: a Local Government Law Perspective

Days: July 12 to 26, 2021

Credits: 4

According to the United Nations, in 2012 Latin America and the Caribbean was the most urbanized region worldwide with more than 80% of its more than 625 million population living in cities. Meanwhile, despite not being the poorest region in the world, it is the most unequal region; with 10% of the population accounting for 71% of the total wealth. This means that most urban dwellers in Latin American cities are poor. +INFO

Professor:

Valentina Montoya Robledo

Banco Interamericano de
Desarrollo - Colombia

Data Governance in the Digital Information Economy

Days: July 19 to 31, 2021

Credits: 4

The so-called Fourth Industrial Revolution has an important urban component. Typical city-services and activities like transportation, housing, the hospitality industry, security and even match-making are increasingly provided and facilitated by digital and data-driven models of intermediation ('platforms'). Platforms are essentially services that operate through a digital interface (an app or website) and that tap on wide-spread internet and smartphones and the collection of locational and other types of information (like 'preferences') helping 'users' match or find goods or services that they are looking for at a hyper-efficient rate. +INFO

Professor:

Beatriz Botero Arcila

Berkman Klein Center Internet and Society – Harvard University

– EE. UU.

Courses in Spanish

If you want to consult the offer of courses in Spanish, click here

Equivalencias

For Uniandes students (under or postgraduate) and students from other universities*

The Faculty of Law will give you an attendance certificate and the Universidad de los Andes will give you a grades report. Find out in your university whether our summer courses can be recognized for credit.

If you need a grade-certificate please do the registration process directly with the Law Faculty fulfilling this FORM. You can always write to us relexderecho@uniandes.edu.co.

Please note that the opening of the courses is conditioned on the number of students enrolled and on the academic profile of the applicants. The Law School of Universidad de los Andes reserves the right of admission to its academic programs.*

Information and Registration

If you are interested in one or several courses, please complete this FORM and we will contact you. You can always contact us at relexderecho@uniandes.edu.co.

¡Thank you for choosing us for your best academic summer experience!

Universidad de los Andes is committed to the fair, lawful and secure treatment of your personal data. Please, consult the Manual of Policies of Treatment of Personal Data of the University (<https://uniandes.edu.co/u-so-de-datos-personales-uniandes>), for information about your constitutional and legal rights, as well as how to exercise them. Your observations, queries or complaints may be directed to ombudsperson@uniandes.edu.co.

Universidad de los Andes | Vigilada Mineducación. Reconocimiento como Universidad: Decreto 1297 del 30 de mayo de 1964. Reconocimiento personería jurídica: Resolución 28 del 23 de febrero de 1949 Minjusticia.

Universidad de los Andes
Colombia

Facultad
de Derecho